Many people underrate the work of the School Crossing Patrol but it is an important part of many children's journey to school and plays an essential role in the community. The government also recognises the importance of this work and has not only placed the service in the national road safety strategy but has changed legislation to allow patrols to cross all pedestrians. This has increased the role and effectiveness of the service in the community.

If you, or anyone you know, would like more information about the above positions please contact Barry Johnson School Crossing Patrol Officer, Tel. 07977 573807
