

The Golden Book

Date: 1st February 2019

Reception

Sam Wood

Sam has really impressed us this week. Not only is his handwriting in our phonics sessions beautiful but Sam is beginning to use his phonics during choosing time too which is lovely to see. Sam has also shown great rhythm during our music sessions, keeping to the beat using his hands and feet. Well done Sam and keep up the good work!

Beatrice Reeves

Bea has had a huge boost in her confidence! She is flying with her reading and her phonics! She loves learning new sounds and practising to write them in Mr Weights' special letters. She can also spot digraphs in her reading book! Bea always has a smile on her face. She loves to make her friends happy and the first thing she does every morning is tell Mrs Buckley a funny joke! Keep up the confidence Beatrice. You are wonderful!

Year 1

Lily Stone

Lily, you are such a superstar! You always arrive with a smile and a positive attitude, ready to work hard and have fun. This week we have been really impressed with your efforts in maths. We have been learning to use the part whole model, and not only have you given every lesson 100%, but you have been willing to help others who found it tricky. Well done Lily, keep aiming high!

Connie Johnson

Connie, don't ever change- just keep being you, because you are fabulous! You are a fantastic role model to others, you are kind and thoughtful, and you never give up. If things get a bit tricky, you keep smiling and keep persevering. We love how you always listen and try your best- fantastic qualities for a fantastic person. Well done Connie.

Theo Walls

Theo is having such an amazing term. He has been working hard in all lessons, and is so much more confident with his writing and phonics. He is a brilliant listener and a really good friend. We all love his cheery smile and positive attitude- he makes everyone's day a bit brighter. Keep smiling Theo!

Year 2

Isla Smurthwaite

Isla has been doing a super job with her maths. This isn't a one off for Isla - she works hard all the time! We have been covering some tricky concepts in maths but Isla hasn't let that stop her. Isla's superpower is her determination! She doesn't let anything stop her. Keep aiming high, Isla!

Martha Cockrem

Martha is a kind member of our class. She doesn't like to see anyone on their own, and will try to involve people in her games so that everyone has someone to play with. This is a lovely way to be, and it is this kind of behaviour helps our school to be the fabulous place that it is! Martha's superpower is kindness!

Year 3

Charlotte O'Leary-Rudge

Charlotte, you are working incredibly hard across all areas of the curriculum and this has not gone unnoticed. Your focus is sharp and you are eager to take on new challenges. In class, you listen carefully and ask when you need help and this is reflected in the quantity and quality of work you produce. You are a happy member of our team and we admire the energy you radiate for school life. Well done, Charlotte; you are doing so well. Keep aiming high!

Faith Dodsworth

Faith your enthusiasm for learning is fantastic! Your Maths work on perimeter has been especially superb this week. You have taken great care to show all your working out; recording your calculations and being meticulous about showing the unit of measurement. You have also impressed us with your attention to detail in our work on direct speech and you have been brilliantly expressive in your reading of dialogue. What a superstar – keep it up!

Year 4

Matthew Phillips

You have shown such fabulous enthusiasm for our topic work on the Aztecs this week. You worked well in your group when researching facts on Aztec life and immersed yourself completely in the task set. You have such a gentle, kind, sensitive nature and have shown yourself to be a helpful, kind, caring member of the class. These are super qualities to see in someone and you set such a brilliant example to others in the way you do this. Even better, you are starting to reflect carefully on what might be improved and this takes great courage and determination. This hasn't gone unnoticed, Matthew. Keep looking up and aiming high!

Sophie Coope

Your maths focus this week has been super, Sophie. You have been keen to answer questions and just 'have a go' which is brilliant to see. Your work is neat and carefully presented too. Better still, when you have been unsure, you have asked for help, but have said exactly which bit of your learning you need guidance on and why. This demonstrates that you are starting to think independently and shows increased confidence and maturity. What a super role model for learning focus! Keep up the great work!

Year 5

Sammy Parkin

Sammy, your thirst for knowledge is inspirational! You love Science, in particular, and have 'wowed' us with the huge amount of facts you know about our topic, Space. The man who visited yesterday, with the planetarium, was really impressed. You have also shown this dedication in your home learning too, producing a wonderful fact sheet about the different moons (you even printed out copies to share with the whole class and a wordsearch to compete for each person too). Thank you for 'going the extra mile'. You are a superstar simply a superstar!

Sofia Walls

Sofia, day in day out, week in week out, you put 100% effort into everything you do. You show an abundance of consideration for others and can be relied upon to make the right choices, all of the time. You demonstrate our fish philosophy in every single way. This week, the piece of work you did for home learning has impressed us - what a fabulous mobile of the planets in our solar system! We can see it must have taken you a long time to make. We want to thank you, Sofia for being such a consistent member of Year 5. You have an excellent attitude towards all aspects of school and life. We think you are truly wonderful.

Year 6

Charlie Greer and Megan Barnett

Charlie - you are a ray of sunshine in our class. Nothing ever gets you down and your kind, caring nature helps to keep everyone positive and smiling. You are eager to be your best and work hard on all tasks. We can see your confidence growing and the impact this is having on your progress. Not only is your work ethic commendable, but that extra support you give to your friends and the school is also noteworthy. This week, Mr Weights received an email, commenting on the excellent service a gentleman had received from a Year 6 helping in the office at lunchtime. That someone was you, Charlie and we are so proud of you. Thank you for embracing our school values and Fish philosophy - keep it up!

Megan - You have produced some super work this week. Your Mary Anning biography is now complete and is a fantastic piece of writing - your best ever! You considered all the success criteria, worked on your personal targets and made sure to edit the piece accurately. We are also really impressed with your Suffragette poster, showing the story of how the Suffragette movement helped gain equality for women in the Victorian era. Thank you, Megs for giving your full focus and effort. It is really paying off!

Golden Table

The children named below have been nominated by the Midday Supervisors for their outstanding behaviour at lunchtimes this week. Well done to all of you!
