

The Golden Book

Date: 22nd March 2019

Reception

This week we have put the whole class in the Golden Book! We had a fabulous first school trip together! The children listened to all instructions, took part in a penguin problem solving workshop and asked interesting questions about everything they could see. Of course everyone's favourite part was the bus trip and the packed lunches! The children behaved beautifully the whole day and they made all of the grown ups and our school VERY proud!

Year 1

Mason Games

What a fantastic term you are having Mason! You are such a brilliant role model to others, because you always try your best and you never give up. This week you have really impressed Mrs Cole with your hard work in maths. You have been helping others and given 100% effort every time. Well done Mason, you should be very proud of yourself!

Elsie Wood

Elsie, we are very lucky to have you in year 1. You are kind, thoughtful and so helpful, which makes you a super friend to have. We love how you try to help people when they are stuck in a lesson. We especially like that you do this by being supportive and encouraging. You are such an enthusiastic learner, and we are sure that rubs off on people too. Well done and keep aiming high!

Year 2

Eddie Cockayne

Eddie is working really hard on showing a positive attitude! He is being kind to others, including both children and adults. He is happy to help with jobs, and make a positive contribution. Eddie's superpower is being helpful! Keep this up Eddie, we are proud.

Riley Lee

Riley has been trying really hard in school recently. He will try anything and everything, and loves to have a go at a challenge. Riley knows that sometimes learning is tough, but he doesn't let that stop him. Riley's superpower is persevering!

Scarlet Smith

Scarlet is an excellent reader! She loves to read books, and enjoys a wide variety of texts. She knows that there's a whole world inside a book, and she loves to talk about what she has read. Scarlet's superpower is being a super reader! Keep aiming high!

Year 3

Max Ackroyd

Max has made a fantastic start to his report writing in English this week. His opening paragraph has included some super adjectives and amazing alliterations to describe mountain ranges and their different features. Keep going Max, your finished report is going to make very interesting reading. Well Done!

Finnley Bedford

Finnley has tried really hard this week in Maths. He has been working on bar models for fractions which he found a little tricky at first, but with perseverance and his fantastic times tables skills, Finnley showed true determination. Keep looking up and aiming high Finnley, because you can achieve so much.

Year 4

Rudy Greatorex

What a super week you've had Rudy! Not only have you shown off your impeccable manners, you've also set a super example to others with your learning focus. It's brilliant to see you making such mature choices and reaping the benefits of this in the work you produce. Keep up the great work!

Bali Wadsworth

Bali you are a kind, caring and considerate member of Year 4; always ready to offer help or lend a hand. During our Archie B research task this week, you showed great maturity in the way you were happy to move groups to accommodate others. This was a lovely gesture and didn't go unnoticed. We are really lucky to have you in our class.

William Johnson

William you always come into class ready to learn. You give every single lesson 100%. If you are unsure, you will ask for help - but are also happy to give new challenges a go. What a simply fantastic role model you are! Even better, you are an incredibly well-mannered young man with a kind, caring and sensitive nature. Keep being you, William. You are simply super!

Year 5

Phoebe O'Brien, Charlie Dawson and Max Verney

Max, you have shown great strength this week and perseverance. It is not easy to keep going when you don't feel 100%. You have shown that even when you are feeling unwell, you can still make progress in your learning. We are very proud of your great attitude and willingness to keep going. Max, you are also a very caring child and this is a great trait to have. You are a good friend to those around you. Well done Max!

What a great week you have had Charlie! You are always diligent and work with real dedication and commitment. You look up and aim high in every lesson and can be relied upon to do your best. Wonderful!

Phoebe, Mrs Turner has chosen you to go into the golden book this week as she was so pleased with how confident you were on Thursday. You faced your fears and made some good choices in class. You worked your socks off in Maths. Just the kind of attitude we love here at school.

Everyone in Year 5, I have to give a special mention to you all for the incredible attitude you have all had towards our topic on fractions. You have all made significant progress and this is down to your hard work and determination to get to grips with fractions, decimals and percentages. I hope that this attitude towards your maths is here to stay! Well done Year 5!

Year 6

Finlay Johnson and Evie Hoyland

Fin - you have proved yourself to be a great working partner this week. You have worked collaboratively with your table group in problem-solving and on maths games. You have made a good start to your Wudu explanation text in literacy and are now responding to feedback thoroughly to up-skill your writing. Keep on like this, Fin and the sky's the limit!! Well done!

Evie - your work this week has stood out for its high quality. You have given 100% focus in all aspects of your learning and this is evident in the work you have produced. You have completed all tasks in the given time and progressed onto extension activities. In Maths, you have flown through our work on co-ordinates and also supported your table group when they needed help. This attitude to learning and willingness to help others will get you far, Evie and we love it! Well done!

Golden Table

The children named below have been nominated by the Midday Supervisors for their outstanding behaviour at lunchtimes this week. Well done to all of you!
